2. Lothar Bolz, East German Foreign Minister, is spending more time at the ministry now. He had previously been reported as spending most of his time at NDP party headquarters.
3. The ministry's BPO elected eleven members on 15 April 1955. The following eight members are known to source:

25X1

 - a. Martin Bierbach, First Secretary (re-elected)
 - b. Georg Handke, deputy Foreign Minister¹
 - c. Fritz Grosse, chief of HA I
 - d. Bockfeld (fnu - female)
 - e. Ewald Moldt, personal Referent to the Minister
 - f. Rudolf Rosmeissel, chief of Department 2, Main Department I.
 - g. Inge Diener, a Referentin in the Cadre Department
 - h. Franz Marquard, last reported in the ministry's library.
4. Among those not re-elected to the BPO were Siegfried Hoeltge, (Main Department V), Kurt Prenzel, (chief of Main Department IV), Charlotte Born, and Wolfgang Kiesewetter, acting chief of Main Department V.
5. Rumors are circulating around the Ministry that Wolfgang Kiesewetter's reputation is rapidly sinking, and that he will not be appointed permanent chief of Main Department V. The main reasons given are Kiesewetter's bourgeois background and the fact that he was an officer in the Wehrmacht.

6. Herbert Busse, chief of Department 3, Main Department I, has left the ministry to enroll in a ten-month course in the Deutsche Akademie fuer Staats-Rechtswissenschaft in Babelsberg in preparation for his state examination. So far, no other ministry functionaries have been sent to Babelsberg for this preparatory course, but 20 employees of the ministry will be sent to Babelsberg in late April 1955 to take a written examination.
7. Dr. Kurt Raphael, former chief of Main Department II in the ministry, is now editor-in-chief of Redaktion Aussenhandel of Die Wirtschaft. Raphael is still in official touch with the ministry.
8. Rolf Glueckauf, press attaché at the East German Embassy in North Korea, recently was in Berlin for a short stay. The main reason for his trip was to obtain medicine for one of his children who is seriously ill.
9. Erhard Scheffler, present chargé d'affaires in the East German Mission in Albania, is to be named Ambassador to Albania when the mission is raised to the status of embassy.
10. Emil Rathmann, former chief of the ministry's Cadre Department, paid a visit to the ministry shortly before Easter of 1955. He is a student at the Karl-Marx Party Academy in Klein-Machnow. Meanwhile his successor in the Cadre Department, Fritz Voss, still signs official papers "i.V." (in Vertretung).
11. Bernhard Koenen, East German Ambassador to Czechoslovakia, spent three days in Berlin. He returned to his post in Prague on 18 April 1955.
12. Manfred Schmidt is back at his post as East German trade attaché in Warsaw. He was in Berlin briefly at the end of 1954 to take an examination in Babelsberg and then returned to Warsaw immediately.
13. The following additional individuals were reported in the ministry as of April 1955:
 - a. Garbe (fnu - female), a secretary in Main Department III
 - b. Ursula Mieth, (previously reported as Mieth, fnu), in Main Department III.
 - c. Fruefer (fnu), in Main Department III.
 - d. Helene Bierbach in Main Department V. She is the wife of Martin Bierbach, First SED Secretary in the Ministry.
 - e. Fritz Fleischel (previously reported as Fritz Fleischer) in Main Department V.
 - f. Pfarre (fnu), in Main Department IV.
 - g. Wojan (fnu)- female), married, in the secretariat of Main Department V.
14. Johanna (Hanna) Mueller, variously reported to be in Main Department V and the Protocoll Department, is definitely employed in the latter.
15. The following individuals were reported as no longer employed in the ministry:
 - a. Fritz Herrmann, formerly a Hauptreferent in Main Department V.
 - b. Johanna Reich, formerly in Main Department V. She is now married to Kling (fnu).

1. Comment: Handke received the largest plurality of votes and the most enthusiasm from the electorate. Handke is said to be one of the most popular functionaries in the ministry.
2. Comment: Reports that Kieseewetter is highly proficient in Russian, English, French, and several other languages are highly exaggerated. Kieseewetter speaks fluent Russian and acts as interpreter in the presence of high-ranking Soviet officials. However, his knowledge of other languages is poor. Comment: Kieseewetter's failure to be re-elected to the BPO, as well as previous reports that Kieseewetter will not be appointed chief of Main Department V, seem to indicate some validity to these rumors.
3. Comment: Schmidt, the only non-SED member even to be assigned to the ministry to a foreign post, had previously been reported as dismissed from the ministry after his return from Warsaw in late 1954.
